ORDINATION SERVICES

Will be held at First Baptist Church

This Evening for Rev. J. T. Finley.

Rev. Dr. Steadman of Champaign, Rev. Mr. Midkiff of Stonington, Rev. Mr. Brown of Morrisonville, Rev. Mr. Eggers of Moweaqua, Rev. Mr. Bell of Paris and Rev. Mr. Claxton of Orona are in the city to attend the ordination services of the Rev. J. T. Finley, who will be ordained as a Baptist minister at the First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The examination of the candidate will take place this afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30.

The ordination sermon will be delivered by Dr. W. H. Steadman of Champaign, who is expected to arrive in time for the evening services. The charge to the church was to have been delivered by Rev. Mr. McCoy of Bloomington, who will be unable to be present and one of the visiting ministers will fill his place. The charge to the candidate will be made by Rev. Mr. Rogers of Moweaqua. Service will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock. There will be special music.

At Warrensburg Canning Factory.
The Off canning factory at Warrensburg is now running full time with about 150 employees. There were about 1500 acres of corn planted and the yield is unusually fine. The corn is canned at the rate of about 120 cans per minute or two every second. It is expected that fully 2,000,000 cans will be turned out before the season is over. Over 90 wagon loads are canned every day and it will take the very best work to clean up the crop before the time for the first frost. A new electric light plant and improved machinery has been put in this year and the work is done with greater ease than before. Very few tomatoes were planted this year and it is likely that this feature will be dropped altogether next year. The refuse is dumped into air tight bins and saved to feed to the stock in the winter.

Land Deal.
George W. Ehrhart yesterday sold for the Citizens' National Bank 80 acres of land located three and one-half miles northeast of Niantic and known as the Bartholomew farm to S. K. Langblin, for $9000, or $10 per acre. Mr. Langblin will move on the farm March 1, 1900.

Field Day and Chicken Fry.
Warrensburg's big event of the season is the field day and chicken fry which will be given on August 25. The field day exercises were postponed from July 4 and the Methodists will give the chicken fry in order to make the event more interesting and profitable.

Sunday Excursion to Indianapolis.
On Sunday, August 20, 1899, the Indiana, Decatur and Western railway will run a special excursion to Indianapolis and return at $1 for the round trip. For time of train, tickets, etc., apply to any I. D. & W. agent. John S. Lazarus, C. P. A., Indianapolis, Ind.—5-dtd

This evening from 8 till 11 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Hays on East Eldorado street, Miss Madge Hays will give an informal reception in honor of Miss Phil of Denver, Col.

MADE $100.

Street Car Men were Quite Successful in Their Undertaking Last Night.

The entertainment given at Riverside park last night for the benefit of the employees of the City Electric Railway company was a great success. There was a concert by the Woodman band and a good entertainment by Fred Jones' company. About 2000 persons visited the park and had a pleasant evening and about $100 was cleared for the street car men. The money will be used to make some improvements at the street car men's club rooms.

It was Great.

The street car boys benefit at Riverside last night was a great success financially and artistically. The boys made about $100 clear. The show was first class as Fred O. said it would be. The best park show ever given. The Woodman band added to the pleasure of the evening. Mr. Ohlson and Mr. Walter Moore kindly donated their services and pleased the people as they always do. Walter's habit walk is a corker. Fred O. will change the program tonight and every night this week. The Sunday night entertainment will be different again and new people will be hired. Friday night is society night and always brings out a large house.

"The Messiah."

The "Messiah" which is the opening of the season's attractions at the Powers Grand on September 5, bids fair to be the greatest musical event held here in years, and it is expected will be very largely patronized by parties living in the surrounding towns, as it is expected that the railroads will make special rates and numerous parties are being formed to attend. "This will bring many people into the city on that day and of course those of the citizens who wish to attend should check their seats off as soon as the plan is open in order that the home folks may secure the seats they most desire.

Attention Woodmen.

All members of Decatur Camp, No. 141, M. W. of A., are requested to meet at their hall in Powers' block, tomorrow (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock, to take part in the parade. Laundry H. Martin, V. C.; G. F. Lewis, Clerk.

BLOODY BATTLE

Eleven Hundred People Killed in a Conflict.

WASHINGTON, August 17.—Minister Russell at Caracas reports that the insurgent faction in the state of Los Andes, Venezuela, under Castro, were completely defeated by the government troops in a bloody battle lasting 18 hours. The insurgents lost 800 killed and wounded, and the government 900. This ends the disturbance.

HOSE THIEVES.

Two Boys Stole a Horse from Assumption Liveryman

Clyde C. Walcott and E. H. Hard, two farm hands from Tillman, Ill., and both about 17 years old, are under arrest at police headquarters and are being held until the authorities from Assumption arrive. They are suspected of stealing a horse.

The boys turned up in Decatur last night at midnight. They could not give a very good account of themselves and were locked up. They each had a horse which they claimed to own, but one of the horses turned out to belong to Johnson, the livery man at Assumption. The two called at the Johnson stable yesterday and hired the horse for an hour and never returned with the animal. The other horse is a roan. Chief Applegate thinks that the second horse was also stolen but as yet an owner for the animal has not been found.

CHANGE OF LOCATION.

Montgomery & Wise and the Wabash Ticket Offices Move Today.

The real estate and insurance firm of Montgomery & Wise, who have occupied offices on the fourth floor of the Millikin building and the office of the Decatur Mutual Loan association, of which Mr. Montgomery was recently made secretary, have been consolidated, and together with the down town Wabash ticket office is today moving into the room in the Millikin building at the rear of the bank. The Decatur Mutual Loan association occupied offices with the Wabash in the Central block. The new office, while not on the busiest street, is centrally located and is one of the most pleasant and convenient ground floor office rooms in the city. The Central block will be rebuilt and for this reason the move was made necessary.

AMZI BAKER DEAD

Decatur's Oldest Wabash Employee Died Suddenly

WAS AT WORK LAST NIGHT

And Returned Home at Usual Hour This Morning—Neuralgia of the Heart the Cause—War Veteran and Mason.

Amzi H. Baker, ticket agent at the Union depot for the Wabash railroad, a one of the old citizens of Decatur, died suddenly this forenoon shortly after 10 o'clock at his home, 1001 East William street. The announcement of the death of Mr. Baker was a great shock to his many friends and acquaintances, who had known him for so many years and who were surprised to hear of his death, as he had been at work for so many years and which gave him had left but a few hours. The news of the death could scarcely be believed.

WORKED LAST NIGHT.

Mr. Baker was at work at the ticket office last night as usual. He left the office at about 1 o'clock this morning and was his custom and went to his home and retired. He usually slept until 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning, but today he awoke about 7 o'clock and complained of severe pains. Dr. H. Eddy, who lives next door, was called and administered some medicine which relieved the pains. Mr. Baker did not seem to think that his complaint was anything serious and he went to sleep again. About 8 o'clock he woke up again and said the pains about his heart were again troubling him and he was in a short time he was dead. Hereafter he had suffered slight attacks of heart trouble, but never to an extent which would cause him to believe his complaint was dangerous.

NATIVE OF COUNTY.

Amzi H. Baker was born September 9, 1830, in Long Creek township, and was almost 63 years old. He was the son of the late Newton N. Baker. He was married in March, 1857, to Miss Annie White, who died in May, 1875. The couple had seven sons, one of whom, Joseph W. Baker, an employee of the Wabash, is now living. Mr. Baker was married a second time in April, 1891, to Miss Ella Macomber who survives him. He also leaves two grand children, two brothers, J. N. Baker of this city and J. W. Baker of Gladstone, Ill., and one sister, Mrs. Sylvester Davis, living near Long Creek.

RAILROAD LIFE.

Mr. Baker lived on his father's farm in Long Creek township until he was grown. He came to Decatur and learned the plasterer's trade, which he followed until the civil war began. He enlisted in Company E of the 10th Illinois and remained in the army until three years later. On returning to Decatur he entered the railroad business and has been in the employ of the Wabash for about 30 years. He began in the express office at the depot where he worked a short time and then took a position as baggage master. When the line to St. Louis was opened he was put on in charge of the baggage car and worked in that capacity for some years. Since about 15 years ago he has been in the ticket office for the Wabash and L. D. & W. railroads. Although an old man he worked partly in the day time and partly at night and for many years was confined in the ticket office for many hours each day.

WIDELY KNOWN.

Mr. Baker was widely known among the railroad men and among those who travel. There was probably no one in Decatur who was acquainted with more persons than Mr. Baker and moreover those who knew the man loved him. He was always pleasant and his last won him so many friends. We regret Mr. Baker's death more than the newspaper men with whom he came in contact daily and to whom he was always helpful, obliging and courteous. Mr. Baker was considered one of the most trusted employees of the road and was therefore held in the highest respect by the railroad men.

VETERAN AND MASON.

The deceased was a member of Decatur Post, No. 141, G. A. R., the Union Lodge, No. 8, A. F. and A. M., and also Mason Chapter, No. 21, Royal Arch Masons. He held a membership in the First Methodist church, but in late years has been attending services at Grace Methodist church. No arrangements for the funeral have yet been made but the services will probably be held on Saturday afternoon.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a life has been so helpless for five years. He could not turn over in bed. After using two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm she was wonderfully improved and able to do her own work. This supreme remedy for female diseases cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, working and dizzy spells. This miracle-working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly run-down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 60 cents. Sold by J. E. King and C. F. Shilling.

Andree Out of Place.
An amusing story of the German emperor is being told in army circles. At a recent inspection of recruits his majesty asked one of them his name and was told "Andree." On his majesty asking him if he was aware that he had a famous namesake, the soldier answered in the affirmative. "Why told you that?" asked the emperor. "My captain, your majesty." "And what was he?" "The captain, your majesty." "Your majesty?" "Your majesty, the captain said that he only wished Andree had taken me to the front."

THE INSTITUTE

Mental Development by Systemic Study

IS MR. LORD'S OPINION

Expressed in a Talk at the Teachers' Institute This Morning—Friday's Program.

The lecture at the High school before the teachers of Macon county this morning was delivered by Livingston C. Lord of the new Charleston Normal school and was one of the most interesting talks that has been heard during the institute. The assembly room was fairly well filled, there being about 250 persons in attendance. Mr. Lord's subject was "Reading for Development." His idea, as expressed in his remarks, is that systematic reading underlies the fullest mental development. There must be some light reading, however, on the same principle that we take recreation of any sort, like eating dessert, taking walks or doing something for pleasure. He believes that to break persons from bad reading we should give them some good light reading and lead on to heavier. Reading is the best way to get near human nature. An expert writer can delineate the human characteristics better than we can study them. He suggested study with an expert rather than making observations single handed. In other words we must have text books to human nature just as we have a text book to the study of any other science. We cannot study each other successfully without the assistance of the observations of some man who has made it a life work. The study of human nature is the highest study there is and it should be carried on with care and system.
